Directed by Byron Holder

Book by Mel Brooks and Thomas Meehan

Music and Lyrics by Mel Brooks

Grandson of the infamous Victor Frankenstein, Frederick Frankenstein (pronounced "Fronk-en-steen") inherits his family's estate in Transylvania. With the help of a hunchbacked side-kick, Igor (pronounced "Eye-gore"), and a leggy lab assistant, Inga (pronounced normally), Frederick finds himself in the mad scientist shoes of his ancestors. "It's alive!" he exclaims as he brings to life a creature to rival his grandfather's. Eventually, of course, the monster escapes and hilarity continuously abounds.

Mix together a batch of fruitcakes, three dozen Christmas trees, 10,000 outdoor Christmas lights, a chicken pox epidemic, two southern spinsters, an estranged old man, a lost cat named Tutti Frutti and a Christmas hog named

Buster and you've got the recipe for a fun-filled and touching evening of holiday cheer. Into this world comes Jamie, a kid who has run away from home and come as far as his money will take him. At first he thinks this town's inhabitants are "nuttier than fruitcakes," but soon he comes to admire, appreciate and adore this nutty little town.

Midsummer/JERSEY

By Ken Ludwig

A hilarious high-octane re-telling of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream set in modern-day New Jersey. The story revolves around the impending wedding of the Governor, the love affairs of four beach-bound high school crushes, a crew of fairies, and the staff of the local salon. The night takes a magical turn when Oberon and Puck arrive on the scene ready for mischief making armed with a powerful love potion. Who knows what will happen in a show backed by pop music and including an iPhone-obsessed wood sprite.
